

Cordell Hipolito is the Founder and Director of Golden State Sports Training and Recruiting Services. He is currently in his 20th year of coaching, 13 of those years at the collegiate level. In his twenty years of coaching he has promoted over 75 of his players to continue their careers at the university level. This is conservatively estimated to be nearly one million dollars in scholarships! In addition, a dozen of his former players have gone on to continue playing professional sports. Coach Hipolito has 12 years of private instruction experience. His former players have gone on to Stanford, West Point, Florida, San Diego State, Long Beach State, University of San Diego, as well as a long list of other schools at all levels.

Currently, Cordell is on the coaching staff at Southwestern College in Chula Vista, California. Prior to Southwestern, he was on staff at NCAA Division II University of California, San Diego. He also serves as an evaluator and instructor in various showcases, camps, and clinics throughout the country. He has been a scout with the Chicago White Sox for the past four years.

Coach Hipolito was my pitching coach in junior college. His patience, and willingness to put in extra hours with not just me, but others on the pitching staff is a characteristic that garnered instant respect from all the players. He knew in which direction to guide us to get us to the next level, and his dedication to that task goes unquestioned. He is a very knowledgeable instructor, and I know that I have taken his teachings and incorporated them in my programs.

Having been on the recruiting trail for several universities, I can attest to the keen eye that coach Hipolito has for talent. He has a sense of where a player's ability places him presently, and a sense of what kind of potential a player can develop into. He has been a reliable source of feedback in my search for Division I caliber players.
